The University of the West Indies, Mona (UWI, Mona) has received financing from the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), toward the cost of the Investment Plan for the Caribbean Regional Track of the Pilot Program for Climate Resilience (PPCR).

The PPCR is a five-year project being executed by the Mona Office for Research and Innovation (MORI) with a programme mandate, which includes strengthening national and regional meteorological offices capacity to act as climate centres.

The main outcome of this assignment will be the development and finalization of a National Roadmap and Plan of Action for Climate Services in each selected PPCR country. The work will be done in close collaboration with national meteorological offices, national stakeholders and the Caribbean Institute for Meteorology and Hydrology (CIMH), and now intends to apply part of the proceeds for the procurement of an individual consultant.

The assignment generally includes:

- (i) Leading the enhancement of the national framework for climate services (NFCS) in selected PPCR countries; and
- (ii) Supporting capacity building exercises for sectorial practitioners in relevant climate services.

And specifically:

- (a) Assist in the planning of national consultation workshops in selected PPCR countries;
- (b) Assist in conducting national consultation workshops in selected PPCR countries through delivering presentations, moderating plenary sessions and facilitating sectorial working group discussions;
- (c) Lead the continued development, validation and finalization of national climate services Roadmaps and Plans of Action for each selected PPCR country.

MORI now invites applications in writing from eligible individual consultants, as defined in the policies of GN-2350-9, by submitting their Curriculum Vitae to the address below.

The full Terms of Reference (TOR) can be accessed at <https://caribppcr.org.jm/procurement/> or at the email address below.

A Contractor will be selected in accordance with the Comparison of Consultant Qualifications (CQS) procurement method set out in Section V – Selection of Individual Consultants of GN-2350-9 Selection and Contracting of Consulting Services financed by the IDB, which can be found at the following website: www.iadb.org/procurement.
